

Tvisha Nevatia

I research violence prevention and gender with a passion to connect feminist-informed research, practice, and policy. Over the last decade, I have used quantitative and qualitative methods to understand violence against women & children, and applied findings to strengthen school and community-based interventions in the Global South. I relocated to the UK from Uganda in 2025 and hold the right to work in the UK.

Research Experience

VARIOUS ORGANIZATIONS, REMOTE

Research Consultant and Advisor (October 2025 - Present)

- Raising Voices, Uganda (October 2025 onwards)
